So my question is, during any of your stops inside Gibson's Bakery, have you seen Mr. Gibson inside the store? 10:48:52 A. I can't recall a specific time that I would have. Q. Okay. So you have no recollection of ever seeing Mr. Gibson inside Gibson's Bakery? A. I have no positive date that I can name 10:49:04 where I would have seen Mr. Gibson inside the bakery. Q. Setting aside the specific date, have                                                                                                                                                                           | 23456789101112131415161718                               | Allyn D. Gibson?  A. Not to my knowledge. Q. Okay. During your visits to Gibson's Bakery, how have you been treated — or strike that. 10:51:10 What are your impressions of Gibson's Bakery? MR. KESLAR: Objection. The question as phrased invades on the editorial process, which is protected by the First Amendment of the U.S. 10:51:20 Constitution, and therefore, it's privileged information to the extent that he's been — it calls for his characterization of Gibson's Bakery, which, you know, as we're here about in this lawsuit and these articles. 10:51:34 So I'm going to instruct you not to answer that question. MR. Did you hear anything?  MR. KESLAR: Objection. Invades the reporter's privilege. To the extent that it calls for unpublished information gathered during 11:56:00 the reporting process, it's protected by the First Amendment to the U.S. Constitution. You don't have to answer that question.  MR. HOLMAN: Again, I think the assertion of the privilege is entirely misplaced 11:56:13 without any foundation whatsoever.  Q. So you're driving to work, you see that there are demonstrators out there. Did you hear any noise or sounds coming from the demonstrators? 11:56:31  A. Do you know if any of the protestors were staff members associated with Oberlin 11:53:42 College? A. No. Q. As you were driving to work that morning, and again we're talking about Friday, November 11th, did you see Meredith Raimondo outside? A. I don't recall. Q. Okay. So you're driving to work and you                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | 7891011121314151617181920212223       | Q. Did you hear anything?  MR. KESLAR: Objection. Invades the reporter's privilege. To the extent that it calls for unpublished information gathered during 11:56:00 the reporting process, it's protected by the First Amendment to the U.S. Constitution. You don't have to answer that question.  MR. HOLMAN: Again, I think the assertion of the privilege is entirely misplaced 11:56:13 without any foundation whatsoever.  Q. So you're driving to work, you see that there are demonstrators out there. Did you hear any noise or sounds coming from the demonstrators? 11:56:31  A. I don't remember whether I did.  Q. Okay. Did you use your camera to record any images, visual, still, or otherwise, on November 12:11:36 11th? MR. KESLAR: That broad of a question, it's the same objection. You don't have to answer that question. Q. Did you walk inside Gibson's Bakery on 12:11:44 November 11th? A. I don't recall. Q. So while you were at the demonstration on November 11th, what did you do? A. Honestly, sir, I don't remember what the 12:12:17 different news-gathering techniques were between the days that I was at the demonstration. Q. Okay. When you were at the protests on November 11th, were there students there? A. Yes. 12:12:37 Q. Were there administrators there?                                                                                                     | 23456789101112131415161718192021                   | be opposed to the demonstrations taking place there? Thank you. Q. Agreed? A. Yes. Q. Okay. So when did you first become 13:15:44 aware that there were demonstrations taking place around Gibson's Bakery on November 10th?  A. I don't recall the time, but I do recall that it was due to scanner traffic. Q. Okay. What's scanner traffic? 13:16:00  A. A police scanner that monitors any number of frequencies that are public, used by emergency personnel. Q. And by members of the news media? A. Well, we receive them. We don't 13:16:12 transmit them. Q. Okay. And is that something that you and/or others monitor as part of being a news |

So, Mr. Hawk, we've previously talked about the incident that took place at Gibson's Bakery on Wednesday, November 9th, correct?  A. Yes. Q. And you've testified that you have no firsthand knowledge of that incident; is that correct? A. Yes.  13:13:31 Q. You've also testified about the demonstration that you came across and that you visited for less than three hours on Friday, November 11th, correct? A. Yes. But before we go on, can I go back 13:13:44 and amend an answer? Q. Sure. Please.                                         | 2345678910111213141516171819202122             | MR.
